Employers Say Hires with AU Degrees Are More Career-Ready than Other Job Candidates

“AU students tend to be better prepared to come into the workforce than peers from other schools because of their well-rounded experience.”

—PAUL ALBERGO
Former Executive Editor,
Bloomberg Industry Group

“American University students come to us prepared to enter the workforce right away. The most important thing is that they're very intellectually curious about the world, which is critical at Gallup because of the type of work we do. The readiness to work combined with the coaching they have received on professionalism from AU are really helpful to their success.”

—JOSH TINNEY
Campus Recruiter,
Gallup

AU is recognized as one of the best universities for matching students and alums with great opportunities in DC and beyond.

"I landed a job quickly. You don't realize how big a deal it is to be an AU graduate in this industry. It helps to have that name and affiliation that you graduated from here; they know that you can do that work."

—AYESHA ALI, SOC '23
Assignment Desk, ABC News

"The staff and faculty really were invested in the success of the students. I had faculty members as professors, PIs [principal investigators], and mentors."
