Summary: The Working Group meeting began with a welcome from the co-chairs and a review of the agenda for the night. Next, Jonathan McCann presented additional information on the planned Meltzer Center project, this included slides on the Further Processing Application (FPA) checklist, diagrams of the buffer plans for planting, and details of the center's expected programming, use, and operating hours. Next, Don Edwards, of Justice and Sustainability Associates, spoke to the consensus building process within the working group, before facilitating a question-and-answer session on the presentation, these questions centered around the construction management plan and community access to AU's recreational facilities. Following this, Jonathan gave a verbal update on the progress of the Jacobs Field Sound Barrier, the university is currently in the process of gathering documentation to submit for the building permitting process. The meeting closed out with comments from the co-chairs and a final call for any questions on Meltzer center to be sent to Jonathan.
